A Week of Kindness and Mindfulness...

This week at Buckingham students have participated in many different activities to help us think about being kind and calm. The week was full of activities both large and small. We celebrated diversity and pledged to help stop bullying, jumped for hours, had a little art therapy and practiced mindfulness. The school was buzzing with kind messages and thoughtful reminders about who we want to be. Kind notes were sent, doors were opened, compliments were given and many happy faces walked the hall. Hearts full from both giving and receiving kind words and actions. As we move through the rest of the year let's make kindness our goal every day.

PINK SHIRT DAY

On February 22 pink shirt day took place to honour those who have been bullied to raise awareness towards ending bullying. At Buckingham we all came to school wearing pink shirts and showed how much we cared about those bullied. At the assembly we read books around bullying and talked about how it affected people. Let's put an end to bullying!

Global Fundraising

In the first term, Division 1 studied the horrific practice of child slavery. Therefore, the Grade 7s' chose to raise money for World Vision, a beneficial organization, to stop child slavery. The Grade 7 students organized 2 movies with popcorn sales. They studiously prepared for weeks, giving each student a chance to contribute. After several votes and arguments, it was decided that the intermediates would be shown the Croods, and the primaries would be shown Ratatouille. On the days of the movies, nearly all participants had bags of delicious popcorn in their hands. As a result, they raised almost $500 to contribute for making this world a better place
